TWO LUCKY MEN.
Pittman & Evans always manage to get hold of good things. Every one who deals with this enterprising firm know the truth of this remark. Now they have gotten hold of another good one. We refer to the fact that they have secured gift-edged space in The Times to tell their many customers of the good things they have on hand for them. Look at the top of the first page of The Times this morning and every other morning, on either side of our name, and glean valuable information.

AN INTERPRETER NECESSARY.
The Bristol News says: Rev. J. Scott Meredith was called upon to officiate in a wedding of unusual interest in Bristol Sunday evening, that of two young Syrians at the residence of Patrick Ryan. The ceremony was performed through an interpreter. They left on the vestibule Sunday evening for Roanoke.

DR. BROADBENT'S COMING.
The Bristol Times of yesterday makes the announcement that Dr. M. E. Broadbent, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of that city, will preach in Roanoke Sunday night, though at what church is not mentioned.

LEG CUT OFF.
A colored man named Sam Witch, of Mount Airy, N. C., fell between the cars at Mayhew, W. Va., Tuesday evening and had his right foot cut off at the ankle. He was seen by a reporter at the depot yesterday as he was being taken home and said he was not suffering much and attached no blame to any one but himself, contributing it to carelessness.

A RAILROAD RUMOR.
A rumor is current in railroad circles that the Norfolk and Western will double track its road between Roanoke and Lynchburg at an early date.

CHORAL SOCIETY MEETING.
The Roanoke Choral Society will meet in the warehouses of the Hobbie Piano Co. to-night. This is a new musical organization but is in a very flourishing condition and has about twenty-five members enrolled.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
The following transfers of real estate were made yesterday: J. H. Marsteller to Frank E. Brown, 25 foot lot on the south side of Campbell street, consideration $1,600 cash.

Everett Perkins, trustee, to Elias J. and Jack Saker, a lot at the intersection of Park street and Moorman's road; consideration $530.

DEATH OF AN INFANT.
Palmer C., the infant son of Engineer J. A. Myers, of 224 Second avenue n. w., died Tuesday night and the remains were taken to Staunton yesterday for burial.

THAT MUCH TALKED OF DOG.
Walter S. Langdon's much-talked of Bull Dog is shedding his coat of hair. Let this remind you that it is about time to shed that old winter hat and replace it with a new one of Langdon's handsome spring shapes.

TAKE ALL THE CHILDREN.

The parent who willfully neglects to take his child to see the Projectoscope this week will commit a grievous error. While grown folks enjoy the entertainment immensely it is essentially an exhibition which will delight the heart and instruct the mind of every child from 4 years of age upward. Every picture exhibited is startlingly realistic. "The Lone Fisherman" probably appeals to a child's sense of the ridiculous more strongly than any picture presented. "The Fire Department" and "The Express Train" come next in order. All three of these pictures are entirely true to life. The Times hazards the recommendation that on matinee occasions there are one or two pictures that should be eliminated, not that they are in the least sense immoral, but rather that they are not suitable for the younger element. Then the house should be better heated than it was yesterday afternoon. The critical reporter of The Times visited the exhibition yesterday afternoon. The machine is certainly a wonder and would be perfect except for two defects, which no doubt Mr. Edison would remedy if he thought it any more than a plaything. These are the constant appearance of electric sparks on the canvas, emitted from the apparatus, and the quivering of the roll of film in the machine itself, which produces a very disagreeable effect on the eyes of the spectators. However, the show is a marvel of ingenuity. Take your children. They will long remember it.

The Academy last night had a fine and appreciative audience. The audiences have steadily increased, and the reason is not far to seek, since everyone who sees the performance becomes a walking advertisement for it, and you hear everywhere, "Have you seen the Projectoscope yet?" "It's a great thing." The result is that what with its real merits and the gratuitous booming by pleased friends, the company is doing a good business. Yesterday's matinee was by far the largest one of the season, and as several of the public schools will turn out in a body this evening, there will no doubt be a much larger crowd than yesterday. The Projectoscope gives a clean, pure performance, its pictures giving pleasure, and in some sense being educational in their effects. The company remains through the week, and no doubt to night's performance will see the largest audience it has yet had. Matinee at 2:30 daily. Price 10 cents.

COMING AND GOING.

The Bluefield Telegraph said yesterday: Miss Mary A. Higginbotham, daughter of Thos. Higginbotham, of Thompson Valley, spent the day with her aunt, Mrs. D. B. Baldwin, en route to Virginia College at Roanoke.

Pat Foy, the florist of the Norfolk and Western railway, came in on No. 3 last night from Roanoke.

J. R. Fishburne returned last night from a visit to Roanoke.

D. W. Meadows, of Roanoke, came in on No. 15 yesterday.

THE SITUATION IMPROVED.

The arbitration committee of the employees of the Machine Works of the Norfolk and Western railway, met last night in the hustings court room and heard reports from the committee appointed to look into the matter of garnishments. The committee decided to prepare resolutions to be presented at the mass-meeting of the employees, which will be called for some night next week. A subcommittee was also appointed to prepare resolutions recommending a co-operative store. A committee on a permanent relief association was also appointed. The committee adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening at the same place. The men feel confident that they will not be pushed to extremes in the matter of garnishments by the railway company, the tax-collector or merchants, and, on the whole, the situation may be said to be much less strained than it was a few days ago.

CASE FOR OUR POLICE.

The Winston, N. C., Sentinel says: A telegram received here to-day says that Thomas Wray, a white man, 23 years old, made a criminal assault on a 12-year-old white girl named Mary Lynch, near Boone's Mill, Va., a few days ago. Wray was arrested but succeeded in making his escape from the constable. He had not been recaptured at noon to-day. He is thought to be in or around Vinton, Va.

JNO. M. PAYNE DEAD.

A. L. Payne, Esq., of the law firm of Hardaway & Payne, received a telegram yesterday evening announcing that his brother, John M. Payne, had died at 5 o'clock p. m., at Iron Gate, and left last night to accompany the remains to Lynchburg, where they will be interred. Deceased was 28 years old, and came to this city in 1887, as an employee of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company, having been for some years chief clerk in the office of Capt. Thos. H. Bransford, when the latter was superintendent of the Shenandoah Valley branch of the Norfolk and Western railroad. He went West a short time ago in the hope of benefitting his failing health, but as his condition did not improve he returned to Virginia. He was a young man of many estimable traits of character, and had many friends in this city who will be grieved to learn of his death.

LESTER CASE CONTINUED.

B. H. May, of Lexington, passed through town last night from Martinsville, where he was summoned in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wade Lester for poisoning Davis. The case was continued until the March term of the court.

ALLEGHANY ATTRACTION.

The entertainment to be given by the Alleghany Dramatic Association on Friday, February 15, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall promises to be a great success. The play to be given is entitled "Who's Who, or All in a Fog." This play was given by the Yale students last year in New York and made quite a hit. Several musical comedies are to be introduced.

PREACHING TO-NIGHT.

Rev. Dr. I. G. Broughton will preach at East Roanoke Baptist Church to-night, services beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

WENT TO A HOSPITAL.

Dr. C. D. Downey left last night for Baltimore, having under his care Mr. J. W. Pepper, who will be placed in Johns Hopkins Hospital, for the purpose of having a surgical operation performed on her.

NORFOLK'S RACE QUESTION.

A Girl Refused School Admission Because of Indian Blood.

Norfolk, Feb. 10.—Some time ago Miss Oli Peters was denied admission to French Street School on the ground that she was of mixed blood, and could not be received in a white school. It seems that she had further damaged her case by attending the Mission College for negroes on Princess Anne avenue. Afterward she made application and was refused.

I. W. Eason, attorney at law, appeared before the board with a writ of mandamus from the court, which he presented and which the board accepted, and appointed Superintendent Dobie, Chairman Taylor and City Attorney Taylor to represent them before the court in the mandamus proceedings.

There is a very interesting story connected with this case, and one that will prove of more than ordinary interest before it closes, if Mr. Eason and others are to be believed.

Mr. Eason contends that the girl in question is but one-eighth or one-sixteenth Indian, and the rest white blood. As there are numerous family branches in Virginia proud of the fact that in their ancestry the strain of Pocahontas' blood is discernable or traceable, this will raise a very interesting question for the miscogenists to solve.

WOLCOTT'S MOVEMENTS.

London, Feb. 10.—The movements of United States Senator E. O. Wolcott, who is visiting the continent in the interest of bimetalism, are reported to be very uncertain. All that is known of his plans is that he will return to London on February 20 and sail for New York on the Aurania on February 27.
